The International Skating Center of Connecticut proudly welcomes the Northern Connecticut Wings Hockey Club to its Spring and Summer Hockey Line-up!

The Northern Connecticut Wings Hockey Club provides a high-caliber hockey environment through rigorous practice, instruction and competitive tournament schedules. There are three main areas of the club Junior A, Junior B and AAA Wings Futures (Squirt minor – Midget major). The philosophy of each area reinforces the club's mission of exposing players to high level of training and high-end competition to expose players to the maximum level of play.

Under the direction of Scott Gainey, former minor professional hockey player and President of the Connecticut Lazers AAA Youth Hockey Organization, Jake DeGennaro, assistant coach at Conrad High School and Vice President of the Connecticut Lazers and Devin Rask, former assistant coach at Wesleyan University and current Director of Player Development for the Connecticut Lazers, the Northern Connecticut Wings offers its players a wealth of expertise, national and international coaching experience and a diverse teaching style.

Approximately 100 players participate in regular spring/summer programs offered by the Northern Connecticut Wings. In addition, the Wings offer specialized camps throughout the summer. To enable more children to participate and experience this high level of hockey play, the organization has recently added 4 youth hockey teams for players ages 8-13.
